

How do people know one is okay but not the other?

John saw the books in the office and Peter did so in the toilet.

John put the books in the office and Peter did so in the toilet.

What about these?

The news that he had communicated to John was unpleasant.

The news that he had communicated with John was unpleasant.

If you're interested in English structure and would also like to enhance your awareness of it, this course is for you. If you're planning to study language or linguistics at a more advanced level in the future, you'll also benefit from this course.